Resurrection Faith

In spring 2020, while Manhattan pastor Timothy Keller was writing a new book about Easter, the world — and his world — stopped. The coronavirus pandemic ravaged New York City, and Keller received a stage 4 cancer diagnosis. Suddenly the theologian had to confront death head-on and reassess his views on eternal life.

“I realized I only half-believed I was going to die,” he tells The Christian Post. “In some ways, I also only half-believed in the Resurrection — not intellectually so much, but all the way down deep in my heart. I realized I needed to have a greater, a deeper faith in the Resurrection, both intellectually and mentally.”

While undergoing cancer treatments, Keller took a deep dive into historical and scriptural evidence for Easter’s main event. He also prayed that the Holy Spirit would make the Resurrection, which can seem abstract, real to his heart.

Facing your own mortality puts earthly things into clear perspective, says the pastor, and it’s a wake-up call for Jesus’ followers to act. “The Resurrection means that God has not at all given up on the world,” Keller writes in Hope in Times of Fear. “But beyond that, it gives meaning to suffering and gives hope that through the suffering will come healing. The Resurrection guarantees that this renewal is certain and is also a call for Christians to work now against what is wrong and unjust.”

SURRENDER

What a privilege and opportunity it is to utterly come to the end of one's hope — not only to run out of answers but to run out of questions. To be beyond fighting, to come to that suspended animation where we are so confused and so weak that we can neither fight [nor] run.

When you come to the end of yourself, you find the beginning of God. And there and nowhere else, you find the answers you seek. You find fulfillment for the longings of your soul.
—Max Anders

We will be having a Church Fellowship on the 19th of March, immediately following the morning worship service, to meet and get to know the prospective Pastor & his family. The Fellowship Committee will handle the meal. Jeanmarie will be putting the menu together and will be getting in touch with different people to bring certain dishes. If you are not contacted, please bring a dessert. If you have any questions, please see Jeanmarie.

Church Family,

The PST has selected a candidate for the Senior Pastor position. We are planning trial sermons for the end of this Month. More information will be presented on March 5th at the regular PST Church Report. See you there!

TRAYNE OF THOUGHT

Ah, Spring is almost here. The weather is getting warmer, pollen is everywhere, Daylight Saving Time will soon be here, plants are budding, and the neighborhood is filled with the sounds of children playing. It’s a time of change and renewal. It’s a time of expectancy with new life among the animals and of the coming the lazy, hazy days of summer. Easter is not far away.

For Harbour Lake Baptist Church, it’s also a time of expectancy. Change is coming. Hopefully the work of the ever-faithful Pastor Search Team will be fulfilled in the coming weeks. That means new leadership helping to write the next chapter of HLBC’s ongoing saga. A time of change, but also a time of renewal. Renew your commitment to our Lord Jesus. Renew your commitment to HLBC. Renew your commitment to pray for and be involved in the harvest for the Kingdom of God. Renew your commitment to be a faithful man or woman of prayer.

Praying for a wonderful, exciting, and fruitful next chapter in the church’s life,

Joe.

Remember to set your clocks ahead before you go to bed on Saturday, 11 March. Hoping you won’t get it back in October this year and we can put this change of time thing to bed forever!

Love Daylight Saving Time!
